

Oil and Gas Possibilities.

While the great possibilities of Quay county as an agricultural county, are becoming generally known and discussed, our oil and gas possibilities are not being overlooked. Prof. Wekoff, the celebrated oil and gas expert, of Beaumont, Texas, has made a thorough topographical survey of the probable oil and gas fields surrounding Tucumcari, and it is his opinion that a vast area of country around Tucumcari is underlain with both oil and gas. The Professor informs us that a company is being formed to sink one or more deep wells, and that the money necessary for the undertaking has been secured.
